Note from Cherie: My husband is a beekeeper, pilot, educator and entrepreneur and we have had several successful field trips with lots of positive feedback. This is truly a unique experience for both kids and parents!*

The following is a general outline.

Arrive 9:45 - 10:00 am

10:00 am - whiteboard talk on honey bees and backyard chickens

10:30 - tour through the beekeeper workshop and see equipment and how honey is bottled

11:00 - outside tour to see and chase chickens and view bees from a distance

11:30 - go back inside for general question and answer. There can also be an aviation/airplane discussion at that time if there is interest.

11:40 - watch through window at Bee Keeper handling of bees and hives

*12:00 – 1:00 - bring your own snack/lunch time on our patio. We will also provide a light snack.

*After eating, there can be more casual discussion time. After eating, kids play time, side walk chalk on drive way, trampolines and general fun. Extra honey will be for sale. We are also eager to help people get started and can supply beginning beekeepers with a plan and equipment to get started themselves.
